

Reuther May Speak Before Senate Probers

By Leonard Randolph
THE DAILY Record learned last night that a high AFL-CIO union official will ask a Senate committee probing corruption to press immediately for strict legislation to give unions stronger legal support in their personal housecleaning campaign.

That information—from an authoritative source in the national AFL-CIO organization—who cannot be identified—indicates the following:

The "high official" will probably be Walter Reuther, head of the giant United Auto Workers organization and a top vice president in the AFL-CIO executive board.

No matter who it is, the AFL-CIO spokesman is expected to ask that Congress enact legislation which will control the collection and administration of union welfare funds.

He will go beyond that, too, however, the source indicated, by asking that legislation be passed to put teeth in union efforts to wipe out fraudulent "paper locals." This is the system of setting up "dummy" local unions which exist only on paper and are used by corrupt forces to collect sums of money both from union members and from employers.

A major part of the AFL-CIO officer's testimony will be given in an effort to "set the record straight" on where and how organized labor stands "on matters of internal corruption."

The AFL-CIO began its own housecleaning campaign last Summer at a conference in Unity House, Forest Park, here in the Pocono Mountains. It was during those meetings that the sharp split between Dave Beck, head of the Teamsters Union, largest in the AFL-CIO and George Meany, organization president, first began to become obvious.

Decision on the part of the national union organization to request an appearance by a spokesman before the current Senate committee probing Teamsters union "rackets" connections was made this week.

Although no exact date has been set or requested by union spokesmen, apparently, the source for this story expressed a belief that it could be within the next two weeks.

Part of the reason AFL-CIO officials are intent on making their views known to the committee is an outgrowth of Beck's insistence that the committee is "playing politics."

Beck launched similar charges against AFL-CIO board members last August after closed sessions in Unity House. It was in those sessions that the giant union organization first took up the matter of "paper locals," with specific application to the Teamsters Union.

When the appearance before the committee occurs, it will mark one of the first times in modern history that a labor official has appeared voluntarily before a committee to request that labor legislation be made more strict, rather than liberalized.

The request is expected to center on making creation of welfare funds subject to rigid administration under law. There would be further requirements for strict accounting of the receipts and expenditures of all funds collected.

Through placement of such funds under a special clause setting them forth as collective, non-profit units which receive their revenue from several states, union officials believe that Federal laws could be made to apply, apparently.

In asking Congressional action on prevention of paper locals, unions would be seeking a complete legal definition of such actions either in isolated cases or as a general practice by a nationwide union.

The source said also that additional testimony will be prepared by the AFL-CIO for submission to the Senate committee headed by Sen. McClellan, (D-Ark.). This testimony will attempt to show the result of investigations by the AFL-CIO executive board into individual Teamsters' union locals, and in the "paper local" cases it has under consideration.

There have been past talks in Congress concerning passage of laws controlling welfare funds. But these never got beyond the discussion stage.

In its efforts to push through such legislation, the AFL-CIO is expected to have the backing not only of such liberal Senators as Paul Douglas, (D-Ill.) and Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.), but also of such conservatives as Russell (D-Ga.) and Byrd (D-Va.) The Daily Record's source indicated.

McClellan Issues Tongue-Lashing To Union Chief

WASHINGTON, March 27 (AP)—Teamster titan Dave Beck, a Fifth Amendment witness, wound up an initial appearance before Senate rackets probers today under scorching denunciation for "arrogant contempt."

Before senators talking of "theft" of union funds, the president of the powerful International Teamsters Union had repeatedly sought refuge behind the Fifth Amendment on all sorts of questions.

It might incriminate him, Beck declared, to say whether he borrowed $200,000 through two business firms to replenish the union treasury after federal income tax agents set out on his trail. He even said it might incriminate him to say whether he used $9,680 of union money to buy five dozen diapers.

"Off the record, senator," Beck told Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), "you are assured it's not for myself."

Fund Out

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.), chairman of the special Senate committee investigating improper labor and industry activities, said he did not know whether Beck's refusal to answer questions constituted "actionable contempt" of Congress—punishable upon conviction by a fine and one-year jail term.

But McClellan said he intended to find out.

It was McClellan who tongue-lashed Beck at the finale of this phase of the committee's hearings.

Beck, he said, has shown "flagrant . . . disrespect for honest unionism" and arrogant contempt for the 1½ million "honest laboring people" in his own union—the nation's largest.

And, he said, in his opinion, Beck has shown "utter contempt" of this committee of Congress, of the United States and for his government. Whether that contempt is actionable or not, I am not at the moment prepared to say."

It was McClellan, too, who spoke of theft.

All the indications at the hearings, he said, have been that Beck was "taking money from his union."

"I don't know any word that would describe it less than 'theft,'" he said, "unless his union knew about it and he replaced it."

Contention

The committee contends that Beck took more than $320,000 from the Teamster Union and that there is no evidence of its being a loan or a gift.

Even though he took the Fifth Amendment over and over, Beck contended that when the complete story is brought out—and he thinks it will be in court because of his income tax troubles—he will be exonerated fully.

He said he had been in the trade union movement 40 of his 62 years and hadn't done one single thing which in his mind was wrong.

Before Beck took the stand, the committee hammered away at its contention that the teamster chief lavished $85,000 of union funds on diapers, knee drawers, roofing, rugs and all sorts of cut-rate items for himself, his relatives and his home.

Mirthful spectators in the marble-columned Senate caucus room guffawed as the list unfolded under the direction of a special Senate committee investigating improper labor and industry activities. There was even $8 for repairing Beck's false teeth.

Beck even smiled himself, at times. He wasn't doing the testifying, though. That was left to his Chicago friend, Nathan Sherman, who said he made the purchases for Beck with his own money at discounts and Beck paid him back.

Two Americans Killed By Iran Bandits

TEHRAN, Iran, March 27 (AP)—Imperial troops with camel cavalry and police tonight were reported closing in on a desert bandit gang that killed two American aid officials and kidnaped the wife of one.

Officials speculated that some of the gang may already have been captured.

Government officials identified the bandit leader of the remote southeastern desert area as a notorious 60-year-old named Dardshah who lives by occasional holdups and camel breeding.

By some reckoning he is rated Iran's public enemy No. 1.

He was reported to have a following of about two dozen but has been lying low for years in the rugged terrain near Pakistani Baluchistan.

Two Iranians with the Americans were killed in the bandit ambush on the Americans' two-jeep convoy Sunday.

Identity

The dead Americans were identified as Kevin M. Carroll, 37, of Issaquah, Wash., and Brewster A. Wilson, 35, Portland, Ore. All four men were found knifed to death.

The missing American woman was identified as Carroll's wife Anita, 35.

The commander-in-chief of the Iranian gendarmerie—a national police force formerly headed by Col. J. Norman Swartzkopf, the New Jersey sleuth of Lindbergh kidnapping fame—told reporters tonight:

"If not already arrested, I very much hope the bandits will be taken within the next 48 hours."

The gendarmerie boss, Gen. Alinaghi Golpuri, said 700 gendarmes, 400 soldiers and about 100 camel-borne soldiers have been assigned to capture the bandits.

Duff Watching On Television

WASHINGTON, March 27 (AP)—Dave Beck's chief counsel, the absent former Sen. James H. Duff, is watching the Senate labor rackets hearings on television, and may talk back—but still from outside—to criticism of his refusal to sit in on the hearings in the flesh.

This was disclosed today by his law associate, Washington lawyer Arthur Condon, in an interview.

Duff in announcing that he had been hired as Beck's lawyer, had stated he would not participate in the Senate hearings because he was still a Republican senator from Pennsylvania at the time the preliminary investigation apparently started. Duff was beaten for re-election last fall.

Lenten Meditation

By Rev. P. N. Wohlsen, D.D.
St. John's Ev. Lutheran Church

"TARRY YE HERE," was the request of Jesus to His disciples that night in the Garden of Gethsemane. They were to give serious thought to the whole program for man's redemption from sin.

This quiet place lent itself to such reflection and meditation.

Such is one of the vital purposes for all followers during this sacred season of the year. It is directing us to tarry here. Get away from the attractive fields of the world and make it a period of self-examination. Discover the spiritual weakness and learn how far we have fallen short.

Let Christ be the center of our thoughts. Learn of your own inability to obtain His righteousness without Christ. Be prepared to accept Him as your sacrificial Savior. Only as we tarry here can there be true repentance and sorrow for sin.

Learn anew the price for one's salvation. Be prepared to receive His divine grace to strengthen and make us more faithful and loyal to Him and His Church. Have the cross mean something more than an ornament to be worn, but that which spells redemption.

As we tarry during Lent, we shall be better prepared to appreciate Him as the Risen Lord and Savior on Easter. "Tarry ye here!"

Eisenhower Opposes Budget Slashes

House Okays Investigation Of Highways

HARRISBURG, March 27 (AP)—The House today authorized a 21-month legislative investigation of all activities of the state Highways Department at a cost of $100,000.

Republicans described the probe as "eagerly awaited" by all Pennsylvanians while Democrats opposed it as "playing politics."

Nine Democrats voted with 114 Republicans to send the GOP-sponsored bill to the Senate on a 123-43 vote after three hours of debate. The negative votes were all cast by Democrats who maintained they favored an investigation but not the Republican-proposed methods.

Rep. Johnson, GOP floor leader, immediately predicted Senate concurrence next Wednesday.

Debate

Sixteen members who debated the measure, introduced only last week, centered their arguments over three items: The unprecedented, $100,000 appropriation, the charge of "political maneuvering," and over the Democratic idea that the Joint State Government Commission do the job.

As approved the House Speaker and Senate president pro tempore will choose the ten members of a new "highway investigation commission." It would be granted full subpoena powers and would continue its hearings after the Legislature adjourns.

The bill provides the commission report its findings and recommendations to the next General Assembly which convenes in January 1959.

"We don't want this spread over the next 1½ years for political purposes," argued Rep. Readinger, Democratic floor leader. "You could really play politics with a commission of this kind and I think you will. We are not basically opposed to an investigation of the Highways Department. . . but it seems you are going about it in the wrong way."

"This is not a witch-hunt," replied Johnson. "Or a means to gain political advantage."

He said the Republican reason for suggesting the investigation is "to get better roads for Pennsylvania as cheaply and quickly as possible."

Oscars For Ingrid Bergman, Brynner

HOLLYWOOD, March 27 (AP)—Ingrid Bergman, the missing Russian princess of "Anastasia," and Yul Brynner, royal rage of 82 children in "The King and I" were crowned the top star performers of 1956 by the Motion Picture Academy tonight.

"Around the World in 80 Days," a producer Mike Todd's first venture in film making, was hailed the best picture of the year.

Dorothy Malone, the sexy Texan actress of "Written on the Wind," and Anthony Quinn, the eccentric artist Gauguin of "Lust for Life," were selected the best supporting players of 1956.

Another Texas subject, "Giant," won the best directing award for George Stevens.

For Miss Bergman it was a spectacular return. Winner of an Oscar in 1944 for "Gas Light," she exiled herself from Hollywood amid scandal and scorn eight years ago.

The mother of a child by Italian director Roberto Rossellini and later his wife, she came back to American films last year in "Anastasia," which has a European locale.

The 42-year-old Swedish actress is in Paris and she designated one-time costar Cary Grant to accept the Oscar. He did so gracefully, sending her "our congratulations, love, admiration and every affectionate thought."

Brynner, bald as the Oscar he held, boomed: "I hope this is not a mistake 'cause I won't give it back for anything in the world."

Born on the island of Sakhalin near Siberia, of Mongolian and Rumanian parents, the 41-year-old actor won Hollywood's highest honor for his second starring picture. He recreated the role he played hundreds of times in the stage show.

President Speaks Sharply On Issue

WASHINGTON, March 27 (AP)—President Eisenhower said today it is futile to talk about making "severe" cuts in his $71,800,000,000 budget.

It is futile, he said, if the United States is to maintain its position in the world and provide its citizens with programs "agreed to be necessary."

Eisenhower spoke out with vigor and sharpness, telling his news conference: "This budget was not only made carefully, it was made intelligently."

In earlier discussions of congressional maneuvers to whack into his spending plans, Eisenhower has been more restrained, and his attitude has been one of rather mild agreeableness to the possibility of cuts.

He went along with that stand today, to the extent of saying that of course it would be possible to "save money here and there, and I am all for it to the last dollar bill."

But today he got more pointed and, with a trace of annoyance, said that with some people it has become a matter of becoming "economy conscious and not realizing what they are talking about."

Signal Depot Figure Enters Pardon Case

HARRISBURG, March 27 (AP)—A former member of the state Pardon Board told a legislative committee tonight that its investigation of the board was "essentially a political inquisition."

Henry E. Harner, former Commonwealth secretary and a member of the board in 1956, testified at a public hearing that "this is essentially a political inquisition and has not more than five cents' worth of principle in it."

He said that a Philadelphia newspaper (the Inquirer) "began this whole thing for what ulterior motive they have had." He added that other newspapers picked up "a sort of gossip and carried it along."

Harner testified that David Kohn of Harrisburg, now serving as committee counsel, had contacted him in 1956 regarding a case Kohn was to present to the board.

"He told me on the telephone that he would appreciate anything I might be able to do to get him a favorable hearing," Harner said.

He said the conversation referred to a man identified as Bowman F. Kennedy Jr. of Blair County. He said Kennedy was sent to prison for rape.

"In cross-examination, Kohn asked Harner:

"In our conversation I told you, did I not, that this is the first case I ever had before the board and I wanted you to look in the case very carefully?"

Reply

Harner replied that he did not recall exactly what was said.

Kennedy was sentenced in 1947 to 17-40 years on charges of robbery, burglary and rape. The Pardon Board refused to recommend a commutation.

The former secretary criticized the committee for what he described as their "sitting up there and criticizing."

The name of a Philadelphia labor leader indicted by a grand jury was brought into testimony earlier in the day.

Robert L. Trescher, Philadelphia attorney, said Harry W. Lavery, of the International Union of Operating Engineers, was present when Trescher discussed Pardon Board cases with former Atty. Gen. Cohen. Cohen was elected to the State Supreme Court last year.

Trescher said he met Dec. 19, 1955 with Cohen in Harrisburg to seek a special listing for hearing cases involving five men convicted of inciting to riot in Media several months earlier.

Lavery was among those indicted by a federal grand jury recently for conspiring to defraud the government in connection with construction of a U.S. Army Signal Corps Depot at Tobyhanna.

Also indicted on the same charge was Rep. William J. Green of Philadelphia.

Observation

Tartly, he observed: "I must say it is a very great satisfaction to me to find out there are so many economy-minded people in Washington. They didn't use to be here."

While Eisenhower seemed irked at criticisms of his budget as too high—and turned truly angry at a question dealing with his personal expense to the taxpayer—he was relaxed and easy most of the half an hour he and the reporters spent battling questions and answers back and forth.

The question that got under his skin, and made him as coldly furious as anybody around the conference had ever seen him, was this one from William McGaffin of the Chicago Daily News:

"Do you feel there are any economies you can make in the executive branch of the government to help cut government spending? For instance, would you be willing to do without that pair of helicopters that have been proposed for getting you out to the golf course a little faster than you can make it in a car?"

Eisenhower turned red, and he seemed to make a positive effort to control his temper.

Then, blitting off his words, he said tartly:

"Well, I don't think much of the question, because no helicopters have been procured for me to go to a golf course."

McGaffin tried to go on, but got out only one word—"Well"—before the President cut him off curtly: "Thank you. That is all."

The White House said recently two helicopters are being bought at about $60,000 apiece to carry Eisenhower between the White House and National Airport here. One would be for Secret Service men. Press secretary James C. Hagerty said there are no plans to use the machines to get to the golf course, but that he could not rule out the possibility they might be so used sometime.

Egyptians Put Limitations On Payments

CAIRO, Egypt, March 27 (AP)—An Egyptian circular to shipping companies today banned British sterling and French francs as currencies in which Suez Canal tolls may be paid.

The circular, understood to have been issued by Egypt's Suez Canal Authority listed seven currencies acceptable from ships of West European countries. It said Danish, Norwegian, Swedish, Belgian, Dutch, Italian and German money would be accepted on the condition it is freely convertible in any currency with the Europeans Payment Union at the official rate of exchange announced by the International Monetary Fund.

Acceptable

The Indian rupee was declared acceptable for Indian ships.

All other ships, the circular said, should pay tolls in U. S. or Canadian dollars, Swiss francs or in such other currencies as may be acceptable by the Egyptian exchange control in accordance with instructions to be issued by canal authorities.

Increase In Loans

WASHINGTON, March 27 (AP)—President Eisenhower today signed into law a bill making half a billion dollars in additional government loan funds available to relieve the tight market for housing mortgages. The increase was urgently sought by the administration.

World War Munitions Owner Dies

NEW YORK, March 27 (AP)—Murray Garsson, 68, one of two brothers imprisoned in the collapse of their 70-million-dollar World War II munitions combine, died last night. He was penniless and homeless.

His physician, Dr. Emanuel M. Josephson, took pity on Garsson when he was forced to leave his hotel last month. For three weeks Garsson slept in the doctor's reception room on E. 61st St.

"He was absolutely broke," Dr. Josephson said. "I had to give him spending money."

Garsson's hotel rent had been paid by an old business associate. However, when the man died, Garsson left the hotel rather than run up a bill.

Autopsy

On March 7, Garsson was found unconscious but dazed after a tumble down a flight of stairs in Dr. Josephson's building. Next day he was admitted to Bellevue Hospital where he fell into a coma from which he never emerged.

An autopsy today showed Garsson died of a brain hemorrhage, apparently suffered in the fall.

Garsson and his brother, Henry, served prison terms for bribing former Rep. Andrew May, Kentucky Democrat, who used his influence to get them wartime contracts. May went to prison.

Senate Passes Bill To Delay Reduction In Business Taxes

WASHINGTON, March 27 (AP)—The Senate today passed a bill to postpone until next year a scheduled three-billion-dollar annual drop in business taxes. It did this after refusing to write in special relief for small business.

A voice vote sent the measure to the House, which had passed a somewhat different version earlier.

The House is expected to agree speedily, perhaps tomorrow, to the Senate bill which extends present corporation income tax rates and excise levies for another 15 months. The House had voted for a one-year extension.

Monday

The scheduled tax cuts will go into effect Monday unless Congress passes an extension bill this week. The need for haste was one factor working against proposed amendments to aid small corporations.

First to be voted on—and rejected 52-33—was an amendment offered by Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.). It would have cut the taxes of small corporations by 400 million dollars a year. This revenue loss would have been offset by a simultaneous increase in taxes on large companies.

Defeated by voice vote was still another amendment by Sen. Williams (R-Del.) to cut the tax depletion allowance on oil and gas income from 27½ to 20 per cent.

The Senate bill would extend for 15 months—until July 1, 1958—present rates on corporation income and excise taxes on autos, auto parts, cigarettes, liquor, wine and beer.

Hospitals Seek $34 Million

HARRISBURG, March 27 (AP)—Pennsylvania's state-aided hospitals tonight asked for nearly 34 million dollars in Commonwealth grants for the next two years in contrast to 24 millions recommended by Gov. Leader.

James C. Kirk, Pottsville, incoming president of the Hospital Assn. of Pennsylvania, also requested three millions in state aid for student nurse training compared to $2,150,000 recommended in the governor's budget.

Kirk made the appeal at a joint meeting of the House and Senate Appropriations Committee which is reviewing the Welfare Department's budget for hospitals.

TRENTON, N. J., March 27 (AP)—Two men have admitted rifling church poor boxes in Trenton, Bristol, Pa., and Levittown, Pa., police said today.

The two men were being held here also on charges of parole. They are John W. Riggs, 22, and Pasquale Carlini, 23, both of Bordentown Township.

Dispute Idles 100

SHENANDOAH, March 27 (AP)—A dispute over a coal mine lease idled 100 men in this area today and may curtail operations in a wider radius.

Law For Junkyards

HARRISBURG, March 27 (AP)—Gov. Leader today signed into law a proposal to give Bloomsburg the right for the first time to regulate junkyards.

Explosion In Mexico City

MEXICO CITY, March 27 (AP)—Two explosions 15 minutes apart in a fireworks plant today killed or injured scores of persons. The scene was near the airport about five miles from the center of the city.

The disastrous effect was compounded when rescuers moving in to help victims of the first blast were caught by the second.

TWO TOP WINNERS—Alice Burrows (second from right) was announced as winner of $15 prize offered by Stroudsburg Kiwanis Club for her essay on "Employment of the Handicapped—a Community's Responsibility." Two Students Honored By Kiwanis Club

REV. THOMAS JEFFERY, a Methodist minister living in semi-retirement in Saylorsburg, spoke on "The Dead Sea Scrolls" at yesterday's Stroudsburg Kiwanis Club meeting.

Before his talk Ben B. Overholts, assistant manager of the Pennsylvania State Employment Service, announced that Miss Alice Burrows and Richard Ashcroft, both students at East Stroudsburg Area Joint High School, had won first and second places, respectively, in the Monroe-Pike essay contest on "Employment of the Handicapped—a Community's Responsibility."

On behalf of the Kiwanis Club, President Elwood Hintze presented a $15 check to Miss Burrows and $10 to Ashcroft. Their essays will be entered in the state contest.

Major Events

Rev. Jeffery referred to discovery of the Dead Sea Scrolls as one of the major events of our day in the religious field. Chief value of the scrolls, he said, is that they verify in many instances later accounts of Biblical times as related in our present Scriptures, especially the Books of Isaiah and Habakkuk.

The first 11 scrolls were found in the mountainous caves overlooking the Dead Sea below the communal city of Qumran. Ten scrolls are parchment and the eleventh is papyrus. Discovered by three boys in jars about nine inches in diameter and two feet high, the true value of the scrolls were not realized until seven months had elapsed, Rev. Jeffery said.

Their translations have not been published widely, the speaker said, because there is so little variance from the translations texts used for centuries.

The speaker was introduced by Dale H. Learn.

Many Ailments Capable Of Causing Pains In Chest

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

ST. LOUIS, March 27 (AP)—Is that chest pain due to an ailing heart, or something else?

Some ways of telling the difference were described today by Dr. William H. Gordon, Lubbock, Tex., cardiologist, to the American Academy of General Practice.

By no means do all chest pains signal heart trouble, he said.

Numerous conditions can produce pains similar to those of angina pectoris where the pains aren't getting enough oxygen due to narrowed coronary arteries.

These similar pains can come from "gas", gallbladder disease, ailments of the esophagus, certain hernias, lung or bronchial ailments, and nervous tension.

Troubles

Anginal pain usually lasts one to five minutes, but may continue for twenty, Dr. Gordon said. It usually comes during activity, particularly after eating, and stops when the person rests.

Anginal pain appears around the breastbone, rather than over the left breast. It can be triggered by emotional anxiety, exposure to cold, and drinking cold liquids as well as by activity.

Doctors can diagnose whether pains mean heart trouble or not only by getting all the facts and history, and by taking time and patience, Dr. Gordon said. No mechanical gadgets can prove or disprove whether the pain is heart trouble. An abnormal electrocardiogram doesn't prove that the heart is ailing, nor does a normal one rule it out.

Making the right diagnosis is vital, the physician said. Otherwise people may go through unhappy, crippling years of thinking they have heart trouble when they don't.

Area Knights Observing Jubilee

MEMBERS OF the Father Butler Council Knights of Columbus are observing the Diamond Jubilee of the Founding of the Knights of Columbus.

The Knights of Columbus, the largest organization of Catholic laymen in the world, was organized in New Haven, Conn., in 1882, and received a charter from the State of Connecticut on March 29 of the same year.

In this, the 75th Anniversary year of the Order, the organization has Councils in every state of the United States, every province of Canada, in Mexico, Cuba, Panama, Puerto Rico, and the Philippines. Its members today number over 1,000,000. From its very beginning the organization has been noted for outstanding welfare projects for the benefit of country, church and fellowmen. For over 30 years its programs designed to offset the influence of atheistic Communism, and in the fields of fraternal, patriotic, and religious welfare, have been outstanding. Particular attention is now being accorded to work in programs of Youth guidance through Knights' Junior Order, the Columbian Squires, and in other ways through close cooperation with civic service groups in hundreds of communities.

Although the Knights of Columbus organization in the local area is practically a new organization, it being founded in June 1955, strides have been taken in all lines of activity, both on a council basis and on a civic basis.

Truman Burnett, was honored by being chosen the first Grand Knight of the Father Butler Council.

During this first year the Council members advanced through the First, Second and Third Degrees.

Six Point Program
Charles Baker, who was appointed the first Six Point Program Chairman made notable progress in launching the new council onto a worthwhile activity program.

The Father Butler Council is currently headed by Grand Knight John Garrity.

Other officers now serving are: James Coleman, Deputy Grand Knight; William Dilgins, Recording Secretary; Sam Driebe, Treasurer; Rev. John A. Esseff, Chaplain; John T. Kupiec, Chancellor; Charles Baker, Warden; Joseph McCluskey, Advocate; Joseph Waraka, Inside Guard; Joseph Jacques, Outside Guard; Jack Mullins, Frank Murphy and Truman Burnett, Trustees. Six Point Program Chairmen are Donato Summa and Edward Yost; Joseph Dane is Lecturer.

The Council has engaged in many noteworthy activities during this second year, those of an outstanding nature are: the award to Richard Manheim for Devotion and Charity; the Memorial Mass for the victims of the August 1955 Flood; radio broadcast of a Columbus Day program in cooperation with the Knights of Columbus from Tobyhanna and Bangor; a family outing for members and their families; a Family Holy Hour with renewal of "marriage vows" and a pledge to a Christian Marriage; a half hour radio program depicting the Family as "the Family that prays together stays together"; participation in the order-wide "Millionth Member Campaign"; advancement of seven local Knights to the Fourth-Degree. The above activities were more prominent on the Council level.

As a civic activity the local Council has sponsored and worked through to a success a recent "Red Cross Blood Drive" their effort in this community project was climaxed when for the first time since mid 1955 the Blood Project within the community was a success and surpassed the established quota.

Leader, Aides Ignored On Gas Tax

The Pennsylvania Senate has seen fit to turn down a move by Gov. George M. Leader and the Highways Department to retain the sixth-cent-a-gallon tax on gasoline to help finance the federal-state road-building program.

In voting to reduce the gas tax to five cents June 1, the Senate followed the action of the House, which passed the measure earlier this month.

Both the Governor and the Highways Department are charged with responsibility for the state's road program. In presenting his highway budget to the General Assembly on March 5, Mr. Leader said:

"This budget requires no new taxes, nor increases in license fees, nor does it ask for additional authorizations to incur debt. At the same time, we will be able to plan, design, contract for, and construct the largest, most difficult, and most urgently needed program of highway expansion and modernization in the state's history."

In detailing the need for retaining the one-cent emergency tax, which was voted by the 1955 Legislature to repair flood damage, the Governor cited figures to show that if the tax reverts to five cents some phases of the state's road program will have to be curtailed—by cutting down on the federal-aid construction, general state projects or payments to municipalities for road work.

The Governor, we thought, presented a strong case for retaining the tax. His proposal seemed worthy of the fullest consideration by members of the State House and Senate.

But Republican leaders saw fit to ignore Mr. Leader and his aides and passed the tax-cutting bill without bothering to ask the Highways Department's opinion or advice in the matter.

Sen. George N. Wade (R-Camp Hill), chairman of the Senate Highway Committee, not only gave the department an impolite brush-off but went so far as to make a speech taken almost bodily from a statement by a spokesman for the Keystone Automobile Club in Philadelphia declaring there was no need for the one-cent tax.

One wonders what kind of representation Pennsylvanians have in Harrisburg which would railroad through a measure that is definitely not in the best interests of the traveling public. We hope Gov. Leader vetoes the bill as a step toward Pennsylvania's full participation in the much-needed highway program.

Opportunities Unlimited New Life Can Rise From Ashes Of Past

By Anne Heywood

The sciences of psychology and psychiatry are doing a good deal to help us to better self-understanding. But, like all relatively new sciences, they are pretty generally misunderstood. And in the hands of some people, they offer beautiful excuses for a lifetime of self-pity.

"The little child needs love," one woman told me—and she's typical—"but I didn't have love when I was little. My parents hated each other and resented me and as a result my emotional growth was stunted."

Then she went out to prove, thoroughly, that she had used this as an excuse for an embittered and loveless life. Here she is, in her mid-thirties, still blaming everything on those early years. Unfortunately, there are a great many people like her.

I discussed this recently with Laurens van der Post, the writer whose books have always made a very deep impression on me. He pointed out, quite wisely, that unless we can face and incorporate into our lives the fact of our early unhappiness, we can never develop and mature.

Perpetual Misery
Using the lack of love as a reason for perpetual misery is a sign of immaturity. Instead, face the fact that it has taught you much, that it has given you understanding of all unloved people, that it has heightened your awareness and sensitivity.

You can build a glorious life on the ashes of the past. Actually, the capacity to love can be developed. Like any other capacity. Once you decide to start giving out love, you will receive love in return.

Embittered Woman
I know a woman who raised herself from a miserable, embittered, ingrown and loveless life by means of a window sill of house plants. She became so interested in them that she tended them with great love. They began to blossom and to return her love, so to speak.

Then she got a kitten, learned how to love it and the kitten showed its affection for her. Later, she took a volunteer job in a founding hospital, learning to care for the babies and the unmarried mothers.

Her Childhood Was Ruined
By Quarrelling Parents

Her capacity for love was given so much exercise that she began to participate in life with a vigor almost unbelievable.

And now she is a happily married woman with a score of friends. She's much too busy to remember the fact that her parents did not love her; in fact, had deserted her!

Next time you find you are excusing yourself because "nobody loved me when I was young," remember that it's never too late to love. And to give love is to get it, automatically!

Try and Stop Me

Howard Dietz, of MGM, is a crack bridge player, but in a game at his club recently, was brought down by his partner. As he paid his losses, he suggested to the partner, "Better brush up on your game before you play in this league again."

"I was way off today, I know," apologized the partner. "I didn't have a wink of sleep last night." Dietz concluded the dialogue with, "Well, you certainly made up for it during the last rubber."

Short-tempered suburbanite—a bit of a punster, too—beat the bejabbers out of the man who lived next door, then explained the altercation to a justice of the peace: "His kids stole my gate, so I took offense."

Keith Elliott tells about the fellow who wandered into a roadside barbecue and inquired, "Do you serve stewed tomatoes here?" The proprietor answered cheerily, "Sure, Bud. Bring her in!"

Robert S. Allen Reports

Missile Expert Assured Of His Day In Congress

Washington, March 27 — Col. John Nickerson is certain of one thing:

Regardless of the outcome of his headline-making court-martial, the Army missile expert is going to have his day in Congress.

Two major committees are set to let him tell his story under their auspices.

They are the House Military Appropriations Subcommittee, which has jurisdiction over the defense budget, and the Joint Atomic Committee, which has primary authority over all nuclear weapons, including warheads for missiles.

These two powerful committees contemplate hearing Colonel Nickerson in connection with unannounced investigations—they are making of apparent contradictions and remarks by Defense Secretary Charles Wilson in determining which service gets how much in the new budget for missiles development.

Both committees are particularly interested in ascertaining why $95,000,000 for this purpose was mysteriously eliminated from the Army's budget.

Reason for their curiosity is an extraordinary conflict in secret testimony.

This occurred at closed-door meetings of the House Appropriations Subcommittee on the controversial $38 billion military budget. Under sharp questioning, Secretary Wilson disclosed the following:

He was the one who ordered all funds for further work on the Army's JUPITER be stricken from the budget. But Wilson asserted he took this drastic step only after giving assurances to Army Secretary Wilber Brucker that the money would be provided if forthcoming tests prove this missile is better than the Air Force's rival, THOR.

In that event, Wilson explained, under an agreement with the Air Force, part of its missile budget would be shifted to the Army's JUPITER.

Air Force authorities flatly denied this.

Secretary Donald Quarles and other top Air officials told the committee, at a subsequent meeting, that they knew nothing about such an agreement. As proof, they cited the fact that all their missile funds had already been earmarked for various projects.

More Questions—No dates have been set for Colonel Nickerson's testimony before these two potent committees.

It is not likely to be before his court-martial. That preference has been indicated to committee members. Meanwhile, pending the embattled Army missile expert's appearance, they are continuing their backstage grilling of high officials.

Budget Director Percival Brundage is one who has been subjected to blunt questioning.

Foremost in that was Representative

George Mahon (D-Tex.), chairman of the Military Appropriations Subcommittee, who is following the Nickerson controversy with close attention. In interrogating Brundage, particular concern was expressed by Mahon that Secretary Wilson's action may concentrate missile development in a few companies.

"As you know," said Mahon, "the military budget proposes $3.5 billion to $4 billion for guided missiles. Can you tell us whether the missile program is sound?"

"I would say it is on the liberal side," replied the Budget Director. "I hope it will be possible in the course of the coming months to cut back some of these expensive projects."

"What especially disturbs me," pointed out Mahon, "is that much of these tremendous sums are going to a handful of firms. These relatively few companies are going to get the bulk of these billions, which in the not-distant future may run as high as $5 or more billions annually."

"You are entirely correct," agreed Brundage. "That's a very serious matter, indeed."

"Then a lot more thought should be given to it by Pentagon authorities than they appear to be doing," declared Mahon. "Seems to me a problem of this magnitude should be carefully studied and thought out."

Brundage held this is being done. Mahon demanded in what way.

"Well, at Secretary Wilson's press conference he declared he was cutting down on JUPITER," explained Brundage. "But then the ARMY challenged that, so I guess this issue hasn't been resolved after all. It appears to be an open question again."

"It certainly does," snapped Representative Daniel Flood (D-Pa.). "It strikes me as another of those frequent Pentagon shuffles, on again, off again, and no one knows exactly what is going on, including Mr. Wilson."

The committee laughed, and even Brundage smiled at this barb.

Note: If Colonel Nickerson has his way, Secretary Wilson and other top Pentagon officials will be summoned as witnesses and subjected to critical questioning at the court-martial.

PTA Plans For Annual Social

By Jim Riley

Pat Frantz and "Mallie" Kresge, both of Scotrun, are currently up to their ears in work preparing for the annual PTA - Teachers Assn. social to be held at Pocomo High School tomorrow night.

Pat and "Mallie" are chairmen of the program committee and are doing all in their power to make the event a success.

They've been working at top speed in recent weeks and the job appears to be just about completed.

Now it's up to the people to support the venture and be on hand for a good time. Starting time is 7:30 p.m.

This is the only fund raising activity held by the PTA each year.

Mrs. Nita Butz, Reiders, is currently a patient at the General Hospital of Monroe County.

Everyone wishes Mrs. Butz a speedy recovery.

Mrs. Louis Mansbach is currently receiving treatment for an eye ailment in New York. She is living for the present at 85 Yorkshire Road, New Hyde Park, Long Island, N. Y.

Mrs. Mansbach, a member of both the Ann Logan Society and Gray Ladies, lives at 1201 W. Main St., Stroudsburg.

Fred Christman has been discharged from the Air Force after four years of service and has returned to East Stroudsburg. The final year of his enlistment was spent in Korea.

Fred is the son of Mrs. Elsie Christman, 75½ Washington St., East Stroudsburg.

Barbara Hill, one of the leading New York Yankee fans in the area, will celebrate a birthday today.

She's the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hill, 451 N. 8th St., Stroudsburg.

William Gialouris, owner of Stroudsburg Restaurant, is recovering from serious burns.

The burns were confined to his right forearm.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Butz, Reiders, are the proud parents of a baby girl. It is the second youngster in the Butz household. Mother and daughter are reportedly doing well at the Monroe County General Hospital.

Lester "Les" Eilber, well-known proprietor of a Ninth St., Stroudsburg, service station, is a patient at the Veterans Hospital in Wilkes-Barre.

He would like very much to hear from his friends at this address: Lester R. Eilber, Veterans Administration Hospital, East End Boulevard, Wilkes-Barre, Pa. (Ward C-6-45.)

Justice's Decision Applauded

An organization which calls itself the "Freethinkers of America" wants to rewrite the pledge of allegiance to the American Flag. It wants no reference to be made to the Deity.

Some weeks ago it filed a petition in the New York Supreme Court asking that the phrase "under God" be excluded by court order from that portion of the pledge which reads: "... one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

The freethinkers based their complaint on the First Amendment to the U.S. Constitution. It prescribes the separation of church and state.

New York Justice Isidore Bookstein has refused the petition. He ruled that no school child in New York whose parents consider themselves freethinkers is under compulsion to include that reference to the Almighty which was voted into the pledge by Congress.

But he added a comment to his opinion which appeals strongly to us. Constitutional guarantees against formation of a state religion, he said, were never intended to "prevent or prohibit the establishment of a religious state."

Thanks to Justice Bookstein there is no court order excluding the words "under God" from our pledge of allegiance. But how meaningful those words are depends on our individual sincerity as we recite them from time to time.

George Sokolsky Says...

Look Into Past Reveals How Fashions, Standards Have Changed With The Years

When we were all young, it was fashionable to have appendicitis and many died of it. Then they changed it.

It was a very good era that worshipped robustness. A woman who had less on her frame than Janey Mansfield was regarded as unsafe to marry lest she be susceptible to tuberculosis which was called consumption.

When the doctors fancied up the names of these sicknesses, they charged more to cure them. Consumption was something to be feared, as many got it and it was one of the great revolutions in medicine when it was discovered that fresh air, eggs and milk were the best cure.

Nobody had yet discovered orange juice. In fact, oranges were a fruit that showed up around Christmas time. They were small; their skin was pitted; and one ate them gingerly lest their juice squirt into the eye. There were no grape-fruits. When orange juice was invented, squeezers came on the market.

Nobody knew anything about vitamins. People drank orange juice because it tasted good. Before that, they ate stewed prunes and apple-sauce. In fact, in some parts of the country, apple-pie was eaten for breakfast. Nobody was afraid of getting fat. The doctors had not yet discovered that obesity was a disease, although gluttony was a sin.

Ice cream was bought in a candy store. Nobody bought ice cream in a drugstore. Candy stores were generally run by Germans who also managed the better bakeries and restaurants, although the fanciest places were supposed to be French.

Nobody objected to immigrants earning a living except in some places there used to be prejudices against the Irish, of whom it was said that they made the best household servants. Prejudices were regarded as normal among human beings who were accepted as imperfect and were not expected to be gods on earth.

In fact, the most amusing humor was the dialect story and such really great actors as Joe Weber, Lou Fields, David Warfield and others of that generation built their careers on dialects, the most popular being the German, the Jewish and the Irish.

Today the dialect is more or less dead, having been killed by Hitler-scared small minds who are so lacking in a sense of humor that they can no longer laugh at themselves.

Nevertheless, the dialect is so natural an expression of human fun that when Menasha Shulnik plays on Broadway in a Bronx-bred sing-songy English, it is hard to get tickets at any price.

Of course, dialects change and the kind one hears nowadays, either authentic Brooklyn or third generation Bronx, is very different from the curious language of my childhood called English.

One can think of those good, unharmed old days with some nostalgic sentimentality—particularly when one recalls a world without real hate in it. Who expected a Syrian peddler to sell an authentic Oriental carpet? Did we have to hate him because he tried to make a dishonest buck?

The clouds of war keep gathering. Threats fill the global air. Hate gives the world a bumper crop.

Earth's statesmen huddle worriedly. On issues extra grave; Mankind beside the abyss stands As tyrants fume and rave; Mars gloats and bellows in top form.

But—look!—he staggers some... A simple headline "Boy Gets Girl" Can daze this tough old bum!

And brighter is earth's mood.

Because this simple message comes: "To love and wed is good."

Would you say the Bermuda Conference was a hit? ... Tony Calento got the decision over Mike Wallace on "Nightbeat." He rolled with the punches and was pretty terrific when, queried about his language, he said, "I ain't a dezer dem and doze guy anymore. I cut up pretty good English now."

Community Citizens, Teachers, Students Evaluate College

Discussions Present 10 Conclusions

A GROUP OF community citizens, teachers and students attempted to evaluate the role of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College within its service area last night and came up with these conclusions:

- 1—The college is doing an "excellent job" in the training of teachers.
- 2—Many locally-trained teachers are being "raided away" by adjoining states with better pay scales.
- 3—The only way to stop "raiding" is to raise teachers' salaries in Pennsylvania to a level even with those in New Jersey and New York.
- 4—Salaries of faculty members at the college itself are "too low."
- 5—Tuition charges at the college are "much too low."
- 6—The college's "cultural, moral and social" contributions to the community are just as important as its economic contributions. The latter were estimated at a total of one million dollars a year.
- 7—Student teachers from the college who work in area schools contribute just as much as they get from the school while they are in training.
- 8—The local college produces teachers who are just as well prepared as young men and women who have been given liberal arts training.
- 9—Student-faculty relations on the campus are better than in most other colleges along the Eastern seaboard. Student government is better and the interest of students in their own affairs is more concentrated and active.
- 10—The college badly needs the "cooperation and enthusiastic support" in its efforts to secure more ground (an added 50 acres needed) and to get its new building program underway.

Taking part in the discussion were the following:

Ernest H. Wyckoff, department store head, Stroudsburg; Genevieve Zimbar, college faculty; Edward Tracy, Easton school superintendent; Thomas Spillane, Fay Dalmeyer, Brian Hartman, Howard Case, Janet Orth, Rosemary Lobb, Shirley Troutman and Denny Roth, student delegates to the meeting, representing various government commissions.

Perry Bean was program chairman who served as master of ceremonies.

A more detailed account of portions of the program, and further inquiries into the college role in the community, will be carried in a future Daily Record story.

Relations

Student-faculty relations on the campus are better than in most other colleges along the Eastern seaboard. Student government is better and the interest of students in their own affairs is more concentrated and active.

The college badly needs the "cooperation and enthusiastic support" in its efforts to secure more ground (an added 50 acres needed) and to get its new building program underway.

Macmillan, Dulles Take Two Views

WASHINGTON, March 27 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan are talking out of different sides of their mouths.

They are doing so in interpreting the achievements of the Eisenhower-Macmillan conference at Bermuda with respect to future cooperation between Britain and the United States in the Middle East.

They apparently are placing a different emphasis on the importance of the Bermuda talks. Moreover, Dulles came very close today to contradicting what Macmillan had said publicly at Bermuda on Sunday.

Diplomatic Game

This is the kind of diplomatic game which could lead to serious misunderstanding between London and Washington by confusing the issue although officials on all sides obviously hope it will stop short of that point.

Dulles told his news conference today that the President and he had held long informal talks with Macmillan and Foreign Minister Selwyn Lloyd at Bermuda but that they did not lead to any agreement on the Middle East.

Macmillan told a news conference at Bermuda on Sunday, in talking about the Middle East and United Nations efforts to obtain a settlement there, that "the British and American governments have agreed on the line they propose to take in the short term and in the long term."

Police Youth Division

NEW YORK, March 27 (AP)—New York has created a 417-member police youth division to combat what Police Commissioner Stephen Kennedy calls a "shocking" increase in juvenile delinquency.

THE COLLEGE PLAYS A PART—Principals in last night's discussion of the role of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College in its seven-county service area were these: seated—Perry Bean, master of ceremonies; Catherine Reimard, president of the American Association of University Professors; sponsor of the meeting; Genevieve Zimbar, panelist and Dr. L. D. Warren, host; standing—Edward Tracy, Easton superintendent; Dr. LeRoy J. Koehler, college president; Dr. Francis B. McGarry, dean of instruction and Dr. Harold Creveling, secretary of AAUP.

House Defeats Plan Dealing With Money, Credit Policies

WASHINGTON, March 27 (AP)—The House today defeated 225-174 a plan for a Democratic-led investigation of the administration's credit and money policies. It was a victory for President Eisenhower, who wants a nonpartisan, independent commission to do the job.

Thirty-eight Southern Democrats joined 187 Republicans to reject the resolution offered by Rep. Patman (D-Tex.), a critic of the administration's "light money" policies. Patman would have been leader of the investigation.

The resolution was supported by 172 Democrats and 2 Republicans. In two hours of debate preceding the vote, Republicans contended a Patman-led inquiry would be prejudiced in advance in favor of "cheap printing press money."

But Speaker Rayburn, personally entering the debate in a rare floor appearance, charged that opposition to the proposal stemmed from "propaganda" by banking interests.

The Texas Democrat made a fervent appeal to the House to stand by Patman and "do our business in our own way."

Eisenhower, in his State of the Union message, asked Congress to authorize a study of the adequacy of the nation's financial structure by an independent commission.

The administration was reported ready to enlarge congressional membership on the proposed commission from four to eight to meet demands of House members for a larger voice.

Defeat of the Patman resolution opened the way for the Republicans to try and push through the administration plan.

The defeated resolution would have authorized Patman, as chairman of a House Banking subcommittee, to conduct a sweeping public investigation of the adequacy of the present credit facilities, credit restraints exercised by the administration and the Federal Reserve Board, and the effect of higher bank interest rates on the economy.

Weatherman Helps Fight Against Snow

By The Associated Press

TEMPERATURES climbed above freezing throughout most of the nation Wednesday. Highway crews in storm-hit western Kansas took advantage of the warmer weather to push their opening of snow-clogged roads.

Intermittent sprinkles of rain or drizzle with occasional snow extended from southern Michigan to Tennessee and eastward into the Appalachian and Mid-Atlantic coastal region. A clearing trend was forecast for the area, however.

Winds

Strong southerly winds bringing up moisture from the Gulf triggered a few thunderstorms in northern Texas and Oklahoma. Hail stones a half inch in diameter fell near the border between the two states.

Cool air flowing across the Rockies set off showers or snow flurries from Montana to New Mexico. Generally fair weather prevailed elsewhere in the West.

Talks On Naval Bases

COLOMBO, March 27 (AP)—Exploratory talks on the disposal of British naval and air bases on Ceylon will begin here Friday. The government of Prime Minister Solomon Bandaranaike has decided to Ceylonize the bases, including the extensive naval anchorages at Trincomalee.

House Shaves $14,391,800 From Budget

WASHINGTON, March 27 (AP)—A House budget-cutting drive shaved another $14,391,800 today from new appropriations for the Labor Department. The drive was still going strong when the House halted for the day.

Today's reductions, all adding to cuts previously voted by the House Appropriations Committee, boosted to $14,808,100 the cuts made in two days.

The announced objective of the drive is to chop from 75 million to 100 million dollars from a bill originally appropriating $2,862,502,881 in new funds for the Labor Department, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, and several minor agencies.

This cut would be in addition to $118,774,700 chopped off by the Appropriations Committee before the bill reached the House floor.

House leaders hoped to finish the bill tomorrow, when amendments affecting huge appropriations for welfare programs will be considered.

Four amendments adopted today by standing vote were aimed, as were four others approved yesterday, at funds which mainly would have permitted personnel expansion. Most of them would have effect, if sustained on a final vote and approved by the Senate, of holding 1958 appropriations to their 1957 levels despite expansion of some programs ordered by Congress last year.

All the votes were tentative, and Rep. Fogarty (D-R.I.), floor manager of the bill, announced he would demand roll call counts tomorrow.

Troubles For Pay Officials

WEST HARTLEPOOL, England, March 27 (AP)—Two Moslem shipyard workers stumped union leaders doing out strike pay allowances. They wanted double benefits. Each has two wives back in Aden.

Union officials huddled, then issued this decision: "Union rules are based on English law. English law permits only one wife. So only one wife can get a strike pay allowance."

President Gives Personal Endorsement To Current Appeals Of Major Religious Faiths

NEW YORK, N.Y., March 27 (AP)—Emphasizing "the responsibility each (American) bears to his brothers in need," President Dwight D. Eisenhower has given his personal endorsement to the current appeals of the major religious faiths—Protestant, Catholic, Jewish—for funds with which to carry out their 1957 world-wide ministries of relief and rehabilitation to the homeless, hungry and destitute overseas.

The President's concern for "the complete success of your efforts which parallel our nation's interest in the health and welfare of all peoples" was expressed in identical telegrams from The White House to heads of the major faith overseas relief agencies carrying on the Protestant "One Great Hour of Sharing," United Appeal, the "Bishops' Relief Fund Appeal" of Catholic Relief Services and the "Emergency Rescue Fund" of United Jewish Appeal.

The telegrams were sent to Dr. R. Norris Wilson, executive director of Church World Service, to Monsignor Edward E. Swanson, executive director of Catholic Relief Services, and to Mr. Herbert A. Friedman, executive vice-chairman of United Jewish Appeal.

The President's telegrams said: "To all who are engaged with religious conviction in world-wide overseas relief efforts, I send greetings."

"Through such projects as The 'One Great Hour of Sharing' United Appeal of Protestant churches, and the Bishops' Relief Fund Appeal of Catholic Relief Services, and the Emergency Rescue Fund of United Jewish Appeal, we give positive witness to our faith in God and to the responsibility each bears to his brothers in need."

"By supporting these vital programs of service to the homeless, hungry and destitute, we can reach across the oceans in true friendship as 'people to people,' showing our compassion and concern."

"Best wishes for the complete success of your efforts which parallel our nation's interest in the health and welfare of all peoples."

The target date of both the Bishops' Relief Fund Appeal and the "One Great Hour of Sharing" is Sunday, at which time contributions will be made in tens of thousands of churches throughout the country in support of the overseas relief work of the Protestant and Catholic churches.

The United Jewish Appeal Emergency Rescue Fund effort, which has special significance at the Passover period, is a drive continuing throughout the year.

The independent but common-purpose programs of the three great faiths for which the appeals are being made give assistance annually to millions of hungry and needy people—refugees from oppression, the chronically underprivileged and undernourished victims of war, disaster, and famine and other destitute and hungry.

Taken together, they account for the major portion—more than 80 percent of the total—of America's voluntary overseas relief efforts.

Iron Curtain Pulled Apart Long Enough To Enable Olympic Champs To Wed In Prague

PRAGUE, March 27 (AP)—Olympic champion Harold Connolly faced up to excommunication by the Roman Catholic Church and married his Protestant sweetheart, Olga Fikotova, in three ceremonies that blocked traffic in ancient Prague today.

The East-West romance which budded in the 1956 Olympic games at Melbourne led them through civil, Catholic and Protestant marriages.

Connolly said "yes" and Olga said "ano (yes)" and the Iron Curtain barriers which had so long loomed threateningly were, for them, set aside. However, religious complications were still ahead in the union of the handsome, 26-year-old Boston hammer-throw king and the pretty, brown-eyed Czech girl, 24, gold medal winner as a discus thrower.

Church Law

Catholic authorities said their church law provided automatic excommunication for Connolly because he exchanged vows with Olga in her own church after she had knelt with him before the candle-lit altar of the 13th century Týn church in the Roman Catholic marriage ritual.

But blessings came from other quarters and the bridal couple beamed.

There were smiles, kisses and tears and Olga, in a white lace gown and matching wide-brimmed hat, was radiant.

Prague's public tribute to young love was something not seen since the Communists took over in 1948. Town Hall Square experienced its worst postwar traffic jam and two women fainted.

Connolly received cable congratulations from Secretary of State Dulles, who says official U. S. policy "favors romance."

Adventists Plan Gift For School

STUDENTS attending a school in the shadows of Egypt's pyramids and sphinx, and near the ancient Nile River, will soon be getting a gift from Stroudsburg.

The gift will be in the form of a special fund to which members of the Stroudsburg Seventh-Day Adventist church, West Main St., will contribute at services Saturday.

Mrs. G. M. Freeman, Sabbath school superintendent, said the contribution is being made to help build a new girls' dormitory and additional faculty homes at the church's Nile Union Academy, located just outside Cairo, Egypt.

An agricultural, co-educational institution training young people to improve their mental, spiritual, and physical potential in the ancient country so often mentioned in the Bible, Nile Union Academy is very near the scene of recent Suez clashes between military forces, Mrs. Freeman noted.

A portion of the Saturday gift will also be sent to the Iran Training Institute near Teheran, Iran, for use in building dormitory-administration facilities, the Sabbath School leader said.

Clark Opposes Budget

PITTSBURGH, March 27 (AP)—Sen. Clark (D-Pa.) said today President Eisenhower's proposed 71 billion dollar budget is not adequate for welfare and defense needs.

Russia Frowns On Suggestion

MOSCOW, March 27 (AP)—Soviet Russia today gave the brush-off to the Bermuda plan to give advance notice on atomic test explosions.

The position thus appeared to be the usual East-West stand-off—with Russia wanting a simple agreement to stop testing bombs, the West contending a paper agreement would be useless in the absence of a broader disarmament agreement or means to enforce it.

Japanese Note

Ilyichev at the same time rejected, in effect, a Japanese note asking that Russia's atomic test explosions be suspended. Without a big power agreement to end tests, he said, the Soviet Union would have to continue perfecting its weapons, including nuclear weapons, in the interest of its own security.

Thus Russia and Britain on the same day turned down Japan's protests.

Coffee, Cookies For Public

HAMBURG, Pa., March 27 (AP)—A load of coffee and cookies was spilled over Route 22 today when a large truck struck a pole and overturned.

The driver, Norman Ryman, 40, New Market, Va., was slightly injured.

Stock Market Features Modest Rally

NEW YORK, March 27 (AP)—Steels and rails were the pace-makers today for another stock market rally of modest proportions.

Some motors, aircrafts and manufacturers tagged along. Coppers did well.

The market had good background on which to stage a rise. There were signs of easier interest rates. A number of recent stockholders meetings have been very optimistic. Later in the day there was news of a boost in copper prices by Custom Smelters and a rise in the price of copper scrap.

Addition

In addition, the Commerce Department reported the nation's economic activities in the first two months of 1957 were about even with the record pace of 1956.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 60 cents to $174.20 with the industrials up 70 cents, the rails up 80 cents and the utilities up 20 cents.

Of 1,107 issues traded, gains outnumbered losses by 485 to 351. There were 48 new 1957 highs and 31 new lows.

Among the 15 most active stocks there were 13 advances one decline and one unchanged.

U. S. Hoffman Machinery was the most active stock, up 1/2 at 10 1/2 on 35,600 shares. Second was Cities Service, up 1/4 at 60 1/4; third was Bethlehem Steel, up 1/4 at 42 1/4 on 22,400.

Former Area Minister Dies In Easton

A FORMER Monroe County minister died Monday night in Easton Hospital. He was Rev. W. Sheridan Dawson, 84, pastor of the Glendon Methodist Church, Easton, who had served the Cherry Valley Methodist Church from 1904 to 1906.

He enrolled at Lafayette College in 1898 and served the Glendon church until his resignation four years later. He also graduated from Pennington, N. J., Seminary and was ordained in 1905 while preaching in Cherry Valley.

Pastorate

Rev. Dawson held pastorate in Bethlehem, Reading, Philadelphia and a number of smaller communities. He was serving in East Bangor when he retired from the active ministry in 1946. He served the Glendon church in semi-retirement for the last 11 years.

He and his wife, the former Cora Hoffman, were married 53 years. Funeral services will be held at the Glendon church Saturday at 2 p.m.

CONSTIPATED?

New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloot or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken, constipating contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H stimulate it to action; to a normal urge to purge.

And, of all laxatives, only COLONOID, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONOID's great moisturizing capacity, plus COLONOID's stretch-stimulating bulk. So effective it relieves even chronic constipation overnight. COLONOID is yet so smooth, so gentle it has proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy.

Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONOID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions. It's a physiological fact: Exercise tones your body! And COLONOID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Get COLONOID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! Only 98¢ for the 60 tablet package, brings positive relief at less than 2¢ per tablet.

Knife Thrown During Fit Of Rage Brings Death To Girl

SCRANTON, March 27 (AP)—A 28-year-old woman was held on a charge of involuntary manslaughter today in connection with a knife-throwing accident that killed her six-year-old daughter last Friday.

Mrs. Dorothy Donvito was held in $5,000 bail after telling police the knife wound suffered by her daughter, Loretta, Thursday night was the result of a quarrel she was having with her husband, Richard, 30.

In a fit of rage, Mrs. Donvito told police, she threw a 12-inch bread knife at her husband. The knife glanced off a washing machine in the family kitchen and sliced the thigh of Loretta, who was washing dishes. The Donvitos first told authorities that the girl was injured when the knife fell off a plate that was being carried out for washing.

The child died from a severed artery the next day.

Four Former State Officials Set For Trial

PITTSBURGH, March 27 (AP)—Trials of four former Republican state officials accused of conspiring to force contributions to campaign funds today were scheduled to start Monday—then postponed indefinitely.

Dist. Atty. Edward C. Boyle delayed the case after Asst. Dist. Atty. Ben Haseltine Jr., who had been assigned to it, told Boyle "it would be impossible to prepare and try the case at such short notice."

Haseltine has tendered his resignation, effective April 15, to seek a Republican nomination for Allegheny County Court judge.

Former Dist. Atty. James F. Malone, a Republican, obtained indictments against the four and 13 GOP state employees in 1954. Boyle is a Democrat.

The 17 were charged with coercing state workers to contribute money to a GOP election campaign fund.

Ancient Wine For Queen

COPENHAGEN, March 27 (AP)—When Queen Elizabeth II visits Denmark next month King Frederik IX will serve her a Rhine wine 370 years old. But no Dane envies her.

The wine was stored in oak casks at Rosenberg Castle by King Christian IV on his ascent to the throne in 1588. Tradition says it must be served to royal visitors even if it does taste like vinegar now.

Adventists To Offer Special Prayers

SPECIAL prayers will be offered and a day of fasting observed Saturday, by Stroudsburg Seventh-day Adventists for Christians who are being persecuted for their religious convictions in Colombia, South America.

Pastor William R. Bornstein of the Stroudsburg Seventh-day Adventist Church, W. Main St., said special prayers would be offered at 9:15 worship services Saturday morning "for fellow Christians who are passing through a very critical time."

Pastor Bornstein said the special service results from an appeal by Adventist World President R. R. Figuhr, Washington, D. C., stating that in Colombia 10 Seventh-day Adventists alone died in 1956 because they would not recant their religious convictions.

Church members have been beaten to death, beheaded, and shot in their own backyards. Homes have been destroyed, churches burned and scores imprisoned," President Figuhr's message stated. "During the Summer of 1956, a total of 197 Adventists were imprisoned."

The message received by the local church said that while persecution has been evident in Colombia for a number of years "in recent months it has been increasing in severity." The message also called for prayer for Christians in other countries where religious restriction is common.

Pastor Bornstein said despite unprecedented persecution Christian activity grows in Colombia. Adventist membership in the South American country has quadrupled in the past few years with more than 1,000 baptisms in 1955, he said.

Four Slated To Attend Conference At Columbia

FOUR MEN will represent Stroud Union Schools and Monroe County at a major conference on improving school-community relations at Columbia University beginning Tuesday morning, April 2.

The conference continues through April 5. Heading the local delegation will be Earl F. Groner, Stroud Union Schools superintendent.

Also in the delegation will be Alfred W. Munson, high school principal; Loring Cramer, Stroud Union School board member and Leonard Randolph, Stroudsburg RD2, The Daily Record, who will be the lay representative.

They will be among 300 school and community leaders who will attend the conference from 56 communities in 15 states. The conference is a direct result of action urged by the White House Conference on Education in its report to President Eisenhower. In that report, great stress was laid on the importance of better communications between the schools and the people as a way to build public interest and support for education.

Purpose of the four-day conference, held at Teachers College, Columbia, will be to help communities plan for cooperation with schools. Delegates to the meeting will come from as far west as Iowa and south as Louisiana.

Among the main speakers will be Dr. James E. Conant, president emeritus of Harvard University and former United States High Commissioner and Ambassador to West Germany.

Edward L. Bernays, pioneer public relations counsel, will analyze methods for developing public interest in education. The dinner speaker on Tuesday will be Dr. Benjamin Fine, education editor of The New York Times.

Summing up the primary aims of the conference this week, Dr. John K. Norton, head of the Department of Education at Columbia Teachers College, said:

"A sound public-relations program is an indispensable factor in building the public understanding and participation needed to insure better schools. This need, with the equally pressing one of better community understanding of education, is stimulating administrators to seek greater knowledge for successful local public relations programs."

"From their work during and following the conference, we believe these 56 communities will pioneer new patterns of leadership in this strategically important field."

Conference co-chairmen are Prof. Norton L. Beach of Dr. Norton's department and Dr. Vivienne N. Anderson, author and public relations specialist.

Earning Slate Announced By Social Security

PEOPLE receiving social security benefits are permitted to earn up to $1,200 a year and still draw all their monthly checks, according to Harry R. Peterman, District Manager for the Stroudsburg-Easton social security area. They can earn between $1,200 and $2,080 and still receive payments for some months in the year, he said.

For those beneficiaries who earn more than $1,200 in 1956 there is a form especially prepared for them to use in reporting their earnings to the Social Security Administration. This report must be filed before April 15. For those who make their tax reports on other than a calendar year basis, the deadline for reporting is three months and 15 days after the end of the taxable year.

This annual earnings report is not necessary for any year after the year in which a recipient of social security benefits reaches age 72.

This annual report to the Social Security Administration has no relation to income tax reporting responsibilities, and it is in addition to any tax forms which may be filed with the Director of Internal Revenue. The social security office located at 204 Northampton St., Easton, Pa., has a supply of these necessary reporting forms and will be glad to assist in the completion of them. Most persons needing the report form will have received one by mail before April 1, Peterman concluded.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

It was a little like old-home week on Main St. yesterday. There were Raymond and Martha Hood, looking big as life and most familiar, here on vacation from Blackburn College in Illinois. There were the early-bird college crowd looking to see who else is home.

There was Mrs. Stiff looking for a birthday present for her grandson who is having a birthday in the hospital, and other people looking for cards for Mrs. Minnie Bush who is going to be 90 tomorrow. And still other people talking about Mrs. Etta Kistler breaking her hip.

What made it of particular interest was the fact that for once the news seemed to be running vertically instead of horizontally. So often you only hear the news in your own layer—a layer governed by your age, your sex, your club and church affiliations, or immediate associates.

One of the things I miss most about the youngsters being away at school is that I've lost my pipeline to the fountain of youthful affairs. One of the dangers of being schedule-and-desk bound is a narrowing of casual contacts.

The impressions, bits of news, and items of personal intelligence you pick up while waiting in line at the check-out counter, waiting your turn at the laundromat, or lingering at a soda fountain are often more interesting than the major items.

And I don't mean interesting in the sense of being scandalous, but interesting in the sense that they are personal and clothe with personality what otherwise would remain impersonal names.

A short program was given by the discussion club of the Confraternity by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mullins, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Shanley Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Malloy, Mrs. T. Manning Curtis and Mrs. Paul Kennedy.

Dr. Abrahamsen Speaks At Smithfield PTA Meeting

A large audience was on hand Tuesday night at the Smithfield School, Minisink Hills, for the regular monthly PTA meeting.

The meeting was high-lighted by a very instructive talk by Dr. Edwin Abrahamsen, Monroe County physician and specialist in pediatrics, who spoke on "Sex Education for Young Children" mainly between the ages of 3½ and 7 years of age.

Curiosities and questions dealing with the physical differences of male and female sex, origin of babies, and how they are born, are all natural queries, he said, and should be expected by parents and teachers alike. To stall off such questions is very wrong, as this is not only harmful to the child, but opens the door for him to seek knowledge elsewhere in a misinformed and distorted fashion, he warned.

It is the parents' privilege to give these answers to the child, on a level he will understand. Parents should deal with and answer these questions only as they arise rather than burden his young mind with additional information he does not seek, as this would only tend to confuse rather than help, the doctor said. If the parent does not feel capable of explaining and answering these questions, they should delegate the responsibility to a physician or a qualified person who can make the child understand.

The film, "Human Beginnings" explained many sound and positive approaches to inform the pre-school child on the subject of birth. Drawing pictures as an art project was one very good method demonstrated to help the young child explore his mind, and express his feelings and understanding in the matter. After a brief question and answer period, Dr. Abrahamsen received a hearty hand of applause, and President Hal Hamlen conveyed thanks to him on behalf of the Smithfield PTA.

Advertising Chairman Morgan Hebard announced a net profit of $580.34, in connection with the yearly advertising program, and Thrift Sale Chairman, Alice Marsh reported a net profit of $81.55 on the recent thrift sale.

Plans for the coming PTA dinner was announced by co-chairman Helen Huffman. It will be a baked ham dinner, and scheduled for April 4, at the Marshall's Creek Firehouse.

Few Subjects More Baffling Than Pruning Flower Shrubs

FEW SUBJECTS are more baffling than pruning flowering shrubs. Generally speaking, most early-flowering shrubs bloom from buds formed on last summer's growth. Lilacs, quince, forsythia, honeysuckle, deutzia and Spirea VanHoutte are examples. These plants are given a "summer pruning"—that is, after they have finished blooming, and this work is done in May or June. If you prune these shrubs now, or in winter, you cut off twigs with blossoms buds on, and there will be considerable loss of bloom until the plant has had another year to grow new twigs.

In other words, the early-flowering shrubs are pruned a couple weeks or so after they blossom. Then there's a group of late-flowering plants (such as hydrangea Pee Gee, shrub Althea, or rose of Sharon, Anthony Waterer Spirea, butterfly bush, privet, roses) which produce new twigs in the spring, and on this new wood the flowers appear later in the season. These plants can be pruned during late fall or early spring before growth starts, without danger of removing flower buds.

Important
Pruning newly set plants is quite important. As soon as the shrub is set in, cut the top back from one-half to one-third. Many shrubs are very dormant when you buy them from the nursery. Some refuse to break or bud out, or make proper growth the first season unless severely pruned to break the dormancy. It's also a good idea to prune an inch or so off the roots and remove damaged or frayed roots. This root pruning causes young feeder roots to develop.

Don't be afraid to prune, and on the other hand don't let the pruning shears get the best of you or the shrub. There's more danger from under pruning than from over pruning, I believe. By that I mean, gardeners don't prune enough. We'll have more on pruning individual shrubs later.

We've been asked to mention a few good annuals from time to time which are more or less trouble-free. Today's annual is the Ageratum, coming in blue and white flowers. Plants are used for edging, bedding and porch boxes. You can start seed indoors since ageratum takes quite a while to bloom. Yet, many gardeners sow them outdoors. Plants self-seed freely, bloom all summer until frost. Cut off faded flowers so that the solid blue or white flowers remain handsome. Give plants ample water in dry weather.

Question Box

M. H. of Pen Argyl: "My neighbor wants to raise sweet potatoes in his garden. He said they'd grow in this region but I doubt it. Will they?"

Oddly enough you can get a good crop of sweet potatoes in the north, especially if the weather is good. Robson Seed Farms, Hall, N. Y., has grown sweet potatoes in the trial grounds, with good results. Last year where the average temperature was about 5 degs. below normal, the crop was poor. At Cornell, however, the Station's Vegetable Crops Department grew a beautiful crop of sweet potatoes in spite of the cold season, by using a plastic sheet mulch. This material not only holds in the soil moisture, but raises the temperature in the soil. Soil temperature is very important in the production of Sweet Potatoes. The soil should be sandy, also, although our neighbor raises Sweet Potatoes in a heavy soil. Some roots weigh as much as 3 lbs., and he does this without the use of plastic mulch.

The mulch is a dark colored polyethylene sheet that is spread over the soil. You cut slits in the mulch with a razor blade, and the young plants (or seeds, if you wish to grow flowers, etc.) are allowed to grow up thru the slits. Heat from the sun is absorbed, warming the soil and thereby causing the plants to grow faster. Weeds are prevented from growing and moisture is conserved in the soil.

You start sweet potatoes from plants and about 100 plants will fill a 150 ft. row. We'd like to see more of our readers raise sweet potatoes. They grow successfully in our northern gardens, especially thru the use of the new plastic sheet mulch.

FREE. Want to know more about Sweet Potato Culture? Send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope for a copy of our free bulletin on this subject. No postal cards, please.

Mrs. T. R. of Stroudsburg: "Two years ago we planted some 'Bleeding Heart.' Last summer the plant died down. Will it come up again? I love this old favorite." Bleeding Heart dies down in late summer, giving the impression that the entire plant is dead. Plant is still alive and will come up again this spring to bloom in April or May. No garden is complete without Bleeding Heart.

Red Cross To Extend Bangor Drive

BANGOR—Extension of the local drive for the American Red Cross for another week was announced at a windup dinner of the local branch at the Colonial Hotel Tuesday night.

The annual campaign for funds, carrying through all of this month, was scheduled to end March 31 but with the goal of $1,900 still to be achieved the drive will continue through April 7. At present the $1,000 mark has been reached.

Mrs. Helen Coleman, executive director of the Eastern Chapter of the Red Cross, addressed the group, raising the question as to why "our industries can't give more to the Red Cross in accordance with their increased profits of recent years."

Introduction
She was introduced by A. G. Abel Sr., treasurer of the local chapter for 41 years. Abel personally sponsored the dinner since it was held at no cost to the Red Cross.

Mrs. Bruna Farace and Mrs. Edith Scott, co-chairmen of the house-to-house phase of the canvass in the area, also spoke briefly. A guest, Miss Gabriella Ertler, Hungarian refugee who was assisted by the Red Cross overseas, was introduced.

Among the others attending were Clair H. Peilly, president; Joseph Shanahan, vice-president; Mrs. Arthur Baker, Alfred DeRenzi, Mrs. Robert Ronco, Mrs. Paul Kressler, Mrs. Stanley Brown, Miss Yvonne Fischer, Mrs. Glenn Brodt and Mrs. Eugene Zelenka.

By Whitney Martin

NEW YORK, March 27 (AP)—Willie Knapp is a polite, rather wizened little man with a friendly smile and modest nature.

He doesn't try to tell you that his masterful riding, timing and judge of pace enabled Upset to defeat Man O'War on that memorable Aug. 13 of 1919 for the only defeat suffered by "Big Red" in his brief but notable career.

In fact, he belittles his own contribution to the startling upset by Upset, and you gather he was just a casual hitchhiker who happened to be astride the Harry Payne Whitney two-year-old. What's more, he says that if the race had been run under present-day conditions a foul claim would have been allowed.

Best

"Man O'War was far the best horse in the field of seven," Knapp says. "Before the race I didn't think Upset had a chance. But Man O'War was kept in a pocket until the 16th pole, and then it was too late for him to win."

"At that time there weren't any movies of races as there are today, and only one or two judges out on the course instead of half a dozen or so."

"You were pretty much on your own out there, and had to use your head. I think Johnny Loftus, who was up on Man O'War, rode a bad race. If he had pulled his horse out and around at the three-eighths pole he would have won easily."

"Instead, he stayed on the inside behind Golden Broom and Upset. Apparently he was expecting Golden Broom to run out, but he didn't, and he tried to bring Man O'War up on the inside of me, so he was jockeyed. "It's too bad he lost, such a great horse. Upset wasn't the best horse I ever rode by any means. Exterminator, for one, was much better." Knapp didn't add, as a less modest person might be tempted to do, that he rode Exterminator to victory in the 1918 Kentucky Derby.

No Idea

Knapp has no idea how many races he rode in during a career which spanned 18 years, starting in 1901. Nor does he know how many winners he rode.

"They didn't keep track of those things so much in those days," he explains, "and I never paid much attention to my statistics."

He was a busy little stakes winner the last three years of his career, at that. He won 16 such events during that period, in addition to the Sanford Memorial, in which Upset defeated Man O'War, and the Kentucky Derby victory of Exterminator.

He rode Sun Briar in six of these races, including the Travers, the Saratoga Special and the Hopeful. Other winning mounts included Panoply, Escoba, Borrow, Purchase, Spur, Vexatious and Naturalist.

He probably is hazy on the details of most of them, but he can remember every heartbeat of the Upset triumph over Man O'War. "Big Red" had won his first six starts with comparative ease, and was an 11-20 choice to take the Sanford, with no betting on him for place and show. Upset was an 8-1 choice.

Man O'War came back to win three more races as a two-year-old, with Loftus up, and then went on to win his 11 starts as a three-year-old, carrying as much as 138 pounds, which he did in the Potomac Handicap.

Willie Knapp can't say he's sorry he was up on the only horse to bluish that record, but he's sincere when he says it's too bad it happened.

Giants Defeat Red Sox, 5-2

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 27 (AP)—Capitalizing on starter Tom Brewer's wildness, the New York Giants jumped off to a flying start for a 5-2 victory over the Boston Red Sox today before 6,277 fans the largest crowd of the year at Municipal Park.

The first inning rally netted four runs and it was Willie Mays' fleet-footedness that scored the other in the seventh inning.

Mays walked, stole second, raced to third when Sammy White threw wildly and Mays set out again to score when centerfielder Faye Thronberry hesitated in returning the ball.

Gray's Quintet, High Point Inn Enter Final Round

POST-SEASON playoffs in the Pocono Mountain Basketball League ran true to form last night with the two top teams — Gray's Chevrolet and High Point Inn — emerging with close decisions in the "sudden death" semi-finals at the YMCA.

The two winning teams will meet at the YMCA tonight at 8:15 in the first game of a best-out-of-three final series for the Shaughnessy championship.

Gray's was forced to come from behind with a rush to outpoint Easton Moose, 76-74, in a game that was not decided until the closing whistle. Gray's, who won the regular season championship, trailed Easton, 58-44, going into the final period and pulled the game out of the fire only through a 32-16 last-ditch rally.

Neal was high man for the winners with 21 points, two more than Ecker tallied in pacing the Easton attack.

High Point edged Al Beseker's Diner, 72-69, in another thriller which saw Randy Morris score 34 points in a losing cause. Gromlich, also of Beseker's, had a 24-point night, but it was not enough to cope with High Point's well-balanced offense. Al Hoffman, Doug Shook and Carl Mahle hit the hoops in the double figures for the winners, who finished second to Gray's in the final league standings.

Sharon Keeps Perfect Mark

PITTSBURGH, March 27 (AP)—Unbeaten Sharon Marched into the PIAA Class A basketball finals tonight with a solid 49-38 victory over Pittsburgh Oliver High for the western championship.

The Bengals from Mercer County were in control all the way before a capacity crowd in the Pitt Field House, finishing strong after Oliver threatened in the third quarter to make a fight of it.

Gunning for their 27th consecutive victory, the WPAL (Dist. 7) champs raced out in front in the first quarter, piling up a 28-8 lead before Oliver found the range midway in the second period. At that point the Bears pulled up to a four-point deficit, 21-17. They never got that close again.

Tigers Claw Dodgers, 18-1

LAKELAND, Fla., March 27 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers pounded St. Louis Cardinals today, 18-1, in the highest total of the spring—and swamped the National League champion Dodgers 18-1 today behind the three-hit pitching of Frank Lary and Jim Bunning.

Softball League Meets Tonight

MONROE COUNTY Softball League will meet at 8 tonight at the VFW Home.

Joseph Whelan, president, said tonight is the deadline for teams to enter for league membership for the coming season.

Cardinals Nip Yankees, 1-0

ST. PETERSBURG, March 27 (AP)—Right-hander Johnny Kucks went the distance for the New York Yankees today, held the St. Louis Cardinals to four hits but lost the game, 1-0. A double by Del Ennis and triple by Hobie Landrith gained the lone score for St. Louis in the second inning.

Mikvy, Heffner Top Choices On AP's All-State Basketball Squad

PHILADELPHIA, March 27 (AP)—A pair of Bobs, Mikvy and Heffner, feature the 1957 Associated Press All-Pennsylvania Scholastic basketball team announced today.

High school basketball fame generally is confined to the locale in which players perform, but the reputations of these two lads transcended boundary lines. Both members of last year's All-State team, Mikvy of Palmerton and Heffner of Allentown were named on almost all of the 70 ballots cast. They were described in postscripts as two of the finest basketball players ever developed in this state.

Also named to the first five from 264 players receiving votes, were Willie Pegrum of Reading's Central Penn League champions; Mark Dumars, playmaker of Sharon's WPAL kings, and George Wise, star of Clearfield's Dist. 9 champions.

Second team berths were awarded Hal Redinger of Erie Strong Vincent, Mike Kwak, Nanticoke; Don Jones, Farrell; Jerry Foster, Chester and Larry Van Eman, McKeesport.

Third Team

And named to the third team were Altoona's Jim Swanner, Marlin Biesecker, Steelton; Cal Fowler from Pittsburgh's Oliver, Wayne Hightower of Philadelphia's Overbrook High, and Jim Zimmerman of Coal Twp.

With the exception of Mikvy and Heffner, the voting was extremely close for other spots.

Mikvy made good the hard way, following in the footsteps of a brother who not only was an All-State, but became an All-America at Temple University. Bob, a 6-4, 200 pounder, scored 1,911 points in four years, including 700 this season.

Honorable Mention

Bill Pryor, McKeesport; Bob Forry, Hanover; Len Chappell, Portage; Bernie Culp, Sharon; Jon Ed Stmbeck, DuBois; John Fridley, Sharon; Bill Packer, Bethlehem; Pat Fruehan, Scranton Central; Sam Preston, Reading; Fran Libonati, Hazleton; Charles Sieminski, Swoyersville; Ollie Payne, Charleroi; Bill Poist, Hanover; Bill Cramsey, Allentown Catholic.

Bangor High School Baseball Candidates Begin Practice On Outdoor Drill Field

BANGOR — Outside favorable weather has permitted the Bangor Area Joint High School baseball nine to hold practice sessions on the playing field the past two weeks, although this past week they have been holding sessions in the Blue Valley Farm Show building.

Coach John L. Williams, when contacted as to the prospects for the season, feels that the team is fast rounding into shape and believes the members to be in far better condition for the opening of the scholastic season than in previous years.

No hard throwing has been the order of the day of Coach Williams, but he believes that when the team opens on April 9 against Easton, they will be ready.

Joseph DeFrank, park custodian has been busy the past week preparing the infield for the initial practice sessions on the field, while the team has been using the practice field.

Coach Williams' greatest concern at this stage of the game is the hope that he will be able to find the answer to his catching problem. Sherwood LaBar, a sophomore, has been working out at this spot, while it is also hoped that Bill Lewis, a senior who did plenty of catching for Legion nines in the area, may be the immediate answer to this question.

The hurling staff which is without a southpaw this year will probably be hinged on Robert Stansberry, a senior, and Brian Jones, a junior. Both boys played plenty of baseball last summer in Legion and Babe Ruth leagues with no mean amount of success. These will be backed by Robert Ferris a sophomore and Barry Reimer another sophomore, both new comers who did excellent pitching for the Babe Ruth League.

Other key personnel counted on by Coach Williams are Larry Corcoran, veteran first baseman; Stansberry and Tom Menhennitt at second base; Glen Heard at shortstop and J. L. Williams at third, both of whom are senior veterans.

At this writing it would seem that the outfield posts are going to two veterans with a rookie performer tossed in. Frank and Robert Butz, sophomore and senior respectively are prime candidates for the outer pastures along with Jimmy LaBar and Angelo Polo, the latter a senior who has seen some service.

Head mentor Williams has indicated that he hopes to carry a squad of 26 to 28 members. Freshmen members of the team and other second stringers are being coached by Walter Vanderbush who has been assisting Williams with the task. Vanderbush is the varsity basketball coach.

Williams Uses Sharp Words

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 27 (AP)—Ted Williams, 38, had sharp words today for any who suspect he intends to play on a part-time basis for the Boston Red Sox this season.

Using typically strong language, the batting wonder snapped at a group of sports writers: "I'm going to play a lot more games this season than you (blankety-blank) writers think."

"You so-and-so forget that when I did start playing last season, I didn't miss a playing day."

Retort

His retort was prompted by a question asking how many games he thought he might play with a good start.

Last year Williams was sidelined by a foot injury from April 18 through May 28, a span of 33 games. He wound up just four hits short of winning his fifth American League title with .345.

Braves Dream Of Checks From Series

BRADENTON, Fla., March 27 (AP)—Through the long winter months, the Milwaukee Braves have been thinking about the World Series checks that went down the drain last September. If they were nonchalant at the time, the mood has changed.

It would be wrong to describe the Braves as hungry players. They are well paid and some have lucrative winter jobs in addition. But they seem to resent the charge that they "blew" the pennant last year. If they resent it enough, they may get a real fast break from the starting gate.

No club has worked harder during spring training. If this once was a country club camp, it is no longer. Everytime somebody hits a homer or makes an error in a squad game, Coach Bob Kelly blows a Boy Scout whistle that means one lap around the field for everybody.

New Start

"When we got down here I called a meeting and talked over a few of the things that happened last year," said Manager Fred Haney. "I said I didn't expect to mention them again. This is a new year and we're starting from scratch."

Last fall the mention of Brooklyn always could be counted upon to bring an unprintable reaction from Haney. No more.

"I've got one thing on my mind," said Haney. "That's winning the pennant. We've got to beat seven clubs. I think we're going to win it."

Haney said he thought the "near miss" of last year would help his club. The Braves finished one game behind the pennant winning Brooklyn Dodgers, Milwaukee dropping two of the final three games at St. Louis to surrender its lead and the National League flag.

Lopez Talks About Hecklers Of Old

TAMPA, Fla., March 27 (AP)—It was late afternoon in the Chicago White Sox press room and Manager Al Lopez and Coach Tony Cuccinello were in a relaxed mood.

The conversation got around to hecklers in the stands, and players who could get a red neck with hardly any ribbing at all.

"I remember this guy in Pittsburgh," said Lopez. "It was Red Mason, that's who it was. He managed Harry Greb."

"I was with Brooklyn and Uncle Robbie was the manager. Luke was with us then, too."

"This Mason used to follow us to Chicago and St. Louis. He loved to ride us. He used to bet on games, 100, 150 bucks, and he'd get on the team he bet against."

Remarks

"He'd never get dirty or anything. He'd just make little remarks. He had one of those small megaphones and he'd stand between the boxseats and the grandstand behind the plate."

"Well, this one day, right in the first inning, we hear 'Lucky Luke!' coming from this guy with the megaphone."

Lopez cupped his hands to his mouth and made it sound piercing and hollow. "Lucky Luke! Lucky Luke! That's all he'd say," said Al.

"Well, it went along like that and Luke is doing all right but he's fuming every time he hears that 'Lucky Luke!' and he's peering over the top of the dugout to shake his fist at this guy."

"Robbie's trying to cool Luke off, thinking it's all pretty funny, when this guy makes a switch. All of a sudden we hear 'Fat Belly Robinson!'"

No Change In Ashburn Plans

ORLANDO, Fla., March 27 (P) — Richie Ashburn, fleet outfielder of the Philadelphia Phillies, isn't going to change his plans and sacrifice batting average for power this year.

"I hit only about two or three home runs a year," he said. "I know I could add 10 homers a year if I wanted to, but if I did my batting average would drop 100 points. I'd rather hit .320 with no homers than .220 with 15 home runs."

Ashburn batted .303 with three circuit blows in 1956.

Russia, India Show Sharp Increase On Trading Market

NEW DELHI, March 27 (AP)—Russia's drive to cash in on India's friendly foreign policy is beginning to have some success. Trade between the two countries increased fourfold in 1956.

During the first 10 months of last year Indian imports from Russia totaled 120,700,000 rupees ($25,347,000) and exports to Russia were valued at 70,100,000 rupees ($14,221,000).

This exchange of 190,800,000 rupees ($40,665,000) worth of goods compared with a total of 50,520,000 rupees ($10,609,200) during 1955.

Major Item

Steel was the major item India imported from Russia during the 10-month period last year. This amounted to 90,900,000 rupees ($19,089,000). Wheat came next with value of 10,500,000 rupees ($2,205,000), then paper and stationery, 58,000 rupees, and machinery and mill work, 35,000 rupees. Most of the latter items were for the Bhilai steel mill Russia has loaned India money to build.

India exports to Russia consisted mostly of tea, raw wool, hides and skins, jute goods, pepper and shellac.

The Soviet Union began a campaign to build up Indian trade in 1955 when the Russians had a big exhibit at the Indian industrial fair here. Russia and satellites overshadowed the Western nations in that fair.

Low But even with the fourfold increase in Indo-Russian trade, the Soviet Union ranks far down the list of traders with India. Only about 2 per cent of India's foreign trade was with Russia during the 10-month period last year, Indian government figures showed.

Britain, United States, West Germany, Japan, Italy and Belgium were all well ahead of the Soviet Union as a source of Indian imports. Britain and the United States were also far out in front as India's best customers.

Engineer Speaks On Construction

BANGOR — Members of the Church Building Committee of the Bangor Presbyterian Church met at the church on Tuesday night and reviewed the plans presented by David O. Pritchard, engineer for the construction of the new Christian Education annex to that church.

The plans met with the approval of the committee and they were ordered presented to the Session of the church for their acceptance or rejection. The session will then present the matter to the congregation of the church.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

THURSDAY, MARCH 28

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Avoid negligence, carelessness. They can ruin an otherwise excellent performance. Day stresses an unbiased, analytical approach to essential in order to attain best results. Humor also important.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus)—Don't let yourself become glib. In a tedious, unproductive program. Your attitude must change. Your ideas should be suitably employed. Make every minute count if you would outstrip competition.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini)—Change your approach so that it will be more effective. Discuss with and ask the advice of reliable associates when necessary. It is not sensible to remain "in the dark" when the "light" is yours for the asking.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—Be careful about important papers, making monetary commitments. Discuss difficult problems with family, those dear to you, co-workers. Don't be obstinate, selfish.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo)—Finish leftover tasks first, then tackle the new ones with vim. Frequent visits. Adopt an attitude of "let it go" not just "let it fly." No one can expect to make progress without effort.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo)—Step up your normal routine by introducing new, sensible methods. Reach for your goal with the confidence backed by sincere knowing effort. Others enjoy your cheery company, share it.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Most familiar matters, activities of immediate urgency should move along smoothly. If you are feeling nervous, turn to your best characteristics. Good days!

October 24 to November 23 (Scorpio)—A period for productive action, gathering knowledge. Don't waste time or energy on non-essentials. Add to the happiness of others by cheerful words and deeds. Control emotions.

November 24 to December 21 (Sagittarius)—Scorpio advice also applicable to you. There is no advance without legitimate effort, efficiently planned. Arrange to concentrate on duties in the order of their importance. Avoid overexertion.

December 22 to January 20 (Capricorn)—If this is one of your slower days, stop to reflect on future plans. If one of your "eager" days, move with alacrity to complete a well planned program. Intelligent effort, analysis needed.

January 21 to February 19 (Aquarius)—It is up to you how far you progress now. Don't wait for opportunity to put in your appearance. Be on the lookout; it can pass you by without you recognizing it. Procrastination should be avoided.

February 20 to March 20 (Pisces)—Display your fine business sense now. A word of caution: don't scatter efforts and energies to the detriment of the most important. Set an ambitious goal, then advance accordingly.

YOU BORN TODAY: Your leadership is strong. You have many fine qualities including initiative, courage, vigor and the knack for working hard no matter the odds. You love your family, and always want them to have the best. You probably would travel at a moment's notice. You don't fear opposition but, through aggressiveness, may find yourself in hassles you never intended. Careless inattention, fickleness. Your generosity can be foolish at times.

Soviet Chiefs Spending More Time At Home

By J. M. ROBERTS

Associated Press News Analyst HAVE you noticed that Bulgarian and Khrushchev have been staying home quite a bit lately and Russia's campaign to win the world has, for the time being, deteriorated into plain old trouble making?

Troublemaking is, of course, a routine tenet of the international Communists. But it is usually accompanied by some sort of act, such as the provision of arms for Egypt or the trade expansion which Russia sought in connection with the Geneva sweetness and light effort.

Now it is just talk, directed primarily at stirring up doubts among NATO members.

First

First came the continuing campaign against West German cooperation with the West.

Then came a general warning that nations which permitted foreign bases on their soil faced annihilation in case of war.

Now this is directed specifically at Norway.

There is growing evidence that Russia was trying primarily to stir up trouble in the Middle East, rather than trying to take it over, when she encouraged Nasser last year. Experts argue that Russia has enough trouble in Eastern Europe without acquiring direct responsibility in troubles of the Middle East, which are expected to fester for years.

Russia's adventures with Nasser brought her, and the rest of the world, to the brink of what would have been a cataclysmic war. It may be that she was frightened by the lengths to which she had been carried by her troublemaking accompanied by acts.

Other Nations

At any rate, she joined with the other nations which moved to stop the fighting in the Middle East. Her threat to use guided missiles on Britain and France was a desperate effort.

There is a fairly general belief, though not provable, that Russia's actions in Hungary have made it more difficult for her to deal directly with the non-committed nations with which she has sought to create an entente through trade and "aid."

Communist capture of one of the state governments in India is calculated to give Nehru second thoughts, although he has never been as complacent about communism in India as about communism in Eastern Europe.

Word from Cairo is that Nasser, too, is jailing local Communists and keeping a close eye on Russian agents although not acting overtly against the latter.

In this atmosphere, Russia continues to talk. NATO, however, has survived the Anglo-American-French split attendant on the Middle East crisis, which was a far greater test than Russia's threats.
